

Another benefit from Gateway EDI, your Revenue Improvement Partner

Streamlined Remits and Secondary Claims

Gain speed and accuracy by managing remits and secondary claims electronically through Gateway EDI.

By electronically transferring remits directly to you, Gateway EDI reduces errors and administrative work. This increased efficiency means you can dedicate more time to patients and less time to paper.

Gateway EDI Electronic Remittance service organizes data from multiple payers in a single place to save you time. Data is instantly accessible, and available in either NSF (National Standard Format) or ANSI 835 format. Even better, many billing systems will allow you to post payment electronically, eliminating tedious data entry. These remits can also be printed at your office from our website, in a standard format.

Gateway EDI Electronic Remittance service simplifies your secondary claims process too. Our system automatically creates secondary claims when needed, based on primary payer information. The two claims are linked, so if you're able to post electronically, updates are always correct.

Help from Gateway EDI is at your fingertips. Stop wasting time on administration and start having a more personal impact on patients.
